ABOUT

Annabelle accepts briefs across a broad range of matters, with a particular focus on commercial and regulatory litigation, employment and workplace health and safety law, and criminal and quasi-criminal proceedings.

Prior to coming to the Bar, Annabelle served as Tipstaff and Associate to the Hon. Justice Walton in the Common Law Division of the Supreme Court of New South Wales. In that role, she worked across proceedings involving serious crime (both at first instance and on appeal) as well as complex civil and commercial disputes.

Before joining the Supreme Court, Annabelle was a solicitor at Lander & Rogers, where she primarily provided advice on public and private M&A transactions and matters of regulatory and corporate compliance.

Annabelle graduated from the University of Technology Sydney with First Class Honours and was awarded the University Medal in 2022.
